

Business Card

First Version

- The front side of the card contains name, title, and some personal contact information.
- The back side of the card contains some things I specialize in.

Second Version

After some general feedback, having to think outside the box and use more creativity, I decided to change the way I would present my “business card”. By thinking outside the box, I came up with a few ideas to create a web page that would look like an interesting contact page, some ideas I did not go any further with: an animated origami type of page that would unfold and reveal the contact information, or an animated envelope where if clicked a “letter” would come out revealing the contact information. In the end I thought of a unique and fun way to display a “business card” or display the contact information that we were assigned to create, I recreated a web page with a record player that would display my contact information on the vinyl itself and the other media information (what I “specialize” in) on an album cover next to it.

Both of these can be found online, the first version can be found by scanning the qr-code and the second version can be found by clicking the link (please note that the web page was not made responsive):
